"SECURING" FREE LABOUR AT BROKEN HILL.

For all the apologies which have the Labour movement so often, and by prevarication and pretence have been made, the facts speak for themselves. If the people in this country have a right to complain of their own miseries, it is because they have not been treated as equals. If the Labour movement has done anything wrong, it has been in the interest of the workers. The workers have been treated as equals, and they have been treated as equals in every respect. The Labour movement has done everything that has been necessary for the benefit of the workers, and it has done everything that has been necessary for the benefit of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.

The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country. The Labour movement has been the champion of the workers, and it has been the champion of the country.