A "LABOR DAY" DEMONSTRATION.

OPEN AIR MEETING ON THE YARRA BANK.

An open air meeting was being proceeded on the north bank of the Yarra to formally celebrate the first occasion of a labor demonstration in this city. It had been arranged that speeches on the subject of the day should be made at the same spot where the meeting was held. The Knights of Labor, members of the Trades and Labour Council, and other labor organizations, and the unemployed fell into a singing procession and proceeded to a point near the bridge over which they were to meet the procession from the south bank. When the men addressed the band, they took two paths and adjourned to opposite sides of the Yarra. The fireman then read the resolutions adopted by the various labor organizations, and the procession adjourned to the other side. Half of whom, as before mentioned, were met on the other side, where a band made its appearance, and the meeting was opened by Mr. Leonard. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Leonard, and the following resolutions were read out:

Resolved, That the meeting would be held at a place and on a day which would be noticed by the people of the State. A resolution was also passed that the meeting be held at a place and on a day which would be noticed by the people of the State. The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. F. H. Armstrong moved—

That the meeting deems the equal rights of all races in the naturalisation of all countries desired, and that the procedure for naturalisation be laid down by law and that the privileges of the naturalised citizen be such as to make it possible for all races to benefit equally.

A more important step for reaching the object of the meeting is the introduction of a general recognition of the rights of all races. This is necessary to the well-being of the country, and it is the duty of the government to ensure that such recognition is given.

Mr. H. E. Taylor seconded.

He called the attention of the meeting to the fact that the government had been too lenient in dealing with the question of the rights of all races. It was necessary to take stronger action to ensure that such rights were properly recognised.

The motion was carried unanimously.
