BREAD, NOT JAIL FOR UNEMPLOYED YOUTH

THE PROBLEM OF THE YOUTH

"Soiling" it

The youth are getting quite a lot of harassment in all kinds of articles in the newspapers and other media. Some young men and women are being threatened and even beaten up by so-called "vigilantes". These individuals claim to be acting on behalf of the community, but their activities are illegal and unjustified.

YOUNG WORKERS' DEMANDS

Underemployment or Nothing

Australian workers of NAAEC are demanding better treatment. In a series of protests held last week, workers at several factories, including the Bluebird Textiles in Sydney, demanded increased wages and improved working conditions. The workers assert that their current pay is insufficient to cover basic living expenses.

STAIN, P.R. Inc.

The protest by the workers against the Inland Transport Service demonstrates the workers' determination to improve their working conditions. Their actions are in line with the international movement for workers' rights.

DEMONSTRATION:

FEBRUARY 17

For Demand of Unemployment Allowance

The youth are demanding a fair share of the economy's resources. They are calling for a comprehensive program to address youth unemployment, including job training and education opportunities.

Governor Editor:

The conditions in the factory are unacceptable.

YOUNG TRAVELLERS

The master class is preparing another attack, the first big push of which is seen in the increase in the number of quitting notices. The workers, to defend and improve their conditions, must put forward their counter-attacks and organize to struggle for them.
