Mighty international response to the announcement that the Australian Peace Congress will be held on April 11th is indicated by the number of world figures who have already signed messages wishing success to the Congress and expressing complete confidence that it will lay an important part in the safeguarding of peace and democratic rights in the Pacific and the world.

DEMOCRATIC peace forces abroad particularly welcome Australian delegation at the peace Congress in New York, viewed by them in the light of the anti-liberation war being waged in Australia.

"War-time greetings" have been received in the National Peace Congress by its secretary-general, Mr. John King, former Aust.
