THE DEEPENING POLITICAL CRISIS IN IRELAND

DIRECT ACTION

NO. 24 AUGUST 3 1972 10 CENTS A FORTNIGHTLY SOCIALIST NEWSPAPER

The Issues Behind The OIL STRIKE
DIRECT ACTION

EDITORIAL

CAN WE LET VIETNAM STAND ALONE?

The air war against North Vietnam has reached an immense proportion. There are a reported 200,000-300,000 bombs delivered in a single week. The U.S. is attempting to break the North Vietnamese, and stop the tide of American aid. The United States is seeking to destroy North Vietnam and is increasing the bombing in an attempt to force a negotiated peace. The United States is using the air war against North Vietnam to reassert its control over the nations in Southeast Asia. The United States is attempting to control the nations in Southeast Asia, and to reassert its control over the nations in Southeast Asia. The United States is attempting to reassert its control over the nations in Southeast Asia, and to reassert its control over the nations in Southeast Asia.
Teachers Strike Over Victimization

By Jim McIvor

Vaccines teachers are presently refusing to teach in their paid and political positions, according to the Australian Teachers' Union (ATU). The teachers are demanding better conditions for them, including a pay raise and better working conditions.

The teachers have stated that they are not only effective educators but also valuable members of the community. They have expressed their dissatisfaction with the current situation and have called for a strike to protest against the union's demands.

Teachers must become aware of their rights and understand the legal system. The strike is an effective way to bring attention to their demands and to force the union to negotiate in good faith. Teachers play a crucial role in society and their work is essential to the functioning of our schools.

High School Rights Campaign Gains Pace

The campaign to organize high school students is gaining momentum, with many students showing interest in the movement. The campaign has been called the "High School Rights Movement," and it is gaining support from students across the country.

The campaign aims to address issues such as school funding, teacher salaries, and student rights. Many students have reported feeling frustrated with the current educational system and are looking for a way to make a change.

The campaign has been met with some resistance, with some schools and parents opposing the movement. However, many students have shown their support, and the campaign continues to grow.

Review: The Compulsory Century

By Dave Riley

The Thirteenth Street School was founded in 1870 as a private, non-sectarian school. It was founded by a group of educators who believed in the importance of a comprehensive education for all students.

The school has a long history of innovation and excellence, and it has been at the forefront of educational reform throughout its existence. Today, the school remains a leader in the field of education, offering a wide range of programs and services to meet the needs of its diverse student body.

The school's success is due in large part to its commitment to providing a high-quality education for all students, regardless of their background or circumstances. The school's mission is to inspire and empower students to be successful in all aspects of their lives, and it is dedicated to helping each student reach their full potential.

The school's facilities are state-of-the-art, with modern classrooms, state-of-the-art technology, and a well-equipped library. The school also offers a variety of extracurricular activities, including sports, music, and arts programs, to help students develop their interests and talents.

The school's faculty and staff are dedicated to the success of each student, and they work closely with parents and communities to ensure that every student receives the support they need to reach their goals.

The school's success is a testament to the power of education and the importance of a robust education system. The Thirteenth Street School continues to inspire and educate students, and it remains a model for educational excellence around the world.

The Aboriginal Embassy

By John Coleman

The Aboriginal Embassy is located in the heart of the city and serves as a symbol of the people's struggle for justice and self-determination. The Embassy is a beacon of hope for the people, and it is a reminder of the resilience and determination of the Aboriginal community.

The Embassy is a place where people can come together to discuss their concerns and work towards a better future. It is a space for the people to gather and share their stories, to learn from each other, and to work towards a common goal.

The Embassy is a symbol of the ongoing struggle for justice and self-determination. It is a place where people can come together to support each other and to work towards a better future for all.

In Brief

The Women's Road to Socialism and Capitalism

Speaking at the New York Hall, Ms. Smith said that the workers must overcome the obstacles that stand in their way if they are to achieve their goals. She emphasized the importance of education and the need for workers to organize and take action in order to achieve their aims.

The Women's Road to Socialism and Capitalism is a book that explores the history of the women's movement and its impact on modern society. It is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of the women's movement and its role in shaping the world we live in today.
THE FIGHT FOR VOLUNTARY MOTHERHOOD
The Contribution of Margaret Sanger By Jenny Ferguson

Margaret Sanger was born in 1879. In her early years, she was known to fight for women's right to vote and for better living conditions for working-class women. She was also known for her work in education and literature, but in her later years, she became a controversial figure due to her advocacy for birth control.

Margaret Sanger was an American writer and activist who fought for women's rights and the right to control their own bodies. She was a pioneer in the field of family planning and was known for her work with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. She is remembered as a key figure in the evolution of the modern birth control movement.

In 1916, Sanger was arrested for distributing contraceptive information and devices, which led to the eventual creation of the American Birth Control League. She was also involved in the development of the first birth control clinic in the United States.

THE DEEPENING POLITICAL CRISIS IN IRELAND
By GERRY FOLEY

In the mid-1930s, the British government introduced the Irish Free State, which was later renamed the Irish Republic. This move was part of the Irish War of Independence, which lasted from 1919 to 1921.

THE ALP AND THE RIGHT TO ABORTION
Picketing the Victorian Branch's 'Conscience' By Leith Nisen

In 1933, the Labor Party in Australia introduced the Abortion Act, which decriminalized abortion in the state of Victoria. This was a significant step towards the acceptance of abortion as a legal and safe procedure.

A picture of theeds of a woman in a hospital bed. The picture is black and white, and the woman is wearing a gown.

At a Federal Conference in 1971, the Labor Party formally adopted a pro-choice stance on abortion. This was a significant step towards the acceptance of abortion as a legal and safe procedure.

The abolition of the death penalty in Australia was a significant step towards the acceptance of human rights and freedoms.

In 1995, Australia became the first country in the world to legislate for the right to die with dignity.

THE FIGHT FOR VOLUNTARY MOTHERHOOD
The Contribution of Margaret Sanger By Jenny Ferguson

Margaret Sanger was born in 1879. In her early years, she was known to fight for women's right to vote and for better living conditions for working-class women. She was also known for her work in education and literature, but in her later years, she became a controversial figure due to her advocacy for birth control.

Margaret Sanger was an American writer and activist who fought for women's rights and the right to control their own bodies. She was a pioneer in the field of family planning and was known for her work with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. She is remembered as a key figure in the evolution of the modern birth control movement.

In 1916, Sanger was arrested for distributing contraceptive information and devices, which led to the eventual creation of the American Birth Control League. She was also involved in the development of the first birth control clinic in the United States.

THE DEEPENING POLITICAL CRISIS IN IRELAND
By GERRY FOLEY

In the mid-1930s, the British government introduced the Irish Free State, which was later renamed the Irish Republic. This move was part of the Irish War of Independence, which lasted from 1919 to 1921.

THE ALP AND THE RIGHT TO ABORTION
Picketing the Victorian Branch's 'Conscience' By Leith Nisen

In 1933, the Labor Party in Australia introduced the Abortion Act, which decriminalized abortion in the state of Victoria. This was a significant step towards the acceptance of abortion as a legal and safe procedure.

A picture of theeds of a woman in a hospital bed. The picture is black and white, and the woman is wearing a gown.

At a Federal Conference in 1971, the Labor Party formally adopted a pro-choice stance on abortion. This was a significant step towards the acceptance of abortion as a legal and safe procedure.

The abolition of the death penalty in Australia was a significant step towards the acceptance of human rights and freedoms.

In 1995, Australia became the first country in the world to legislate for the right to die with dignity.

THE FIGHT FOR VOLUNTARY MOTHERHOOD
The Contribution of Margaret Sanger By Jenny Ferguson

Margaret Sanger was born in 1879. In her early years, she was known to fight for women's right to vote and for better living conditions for working-class women. She was also known for her work in education and literature, but in her later years, she became a controversial figure due to her advocacy for birth control.

Margaret Sanger was an American writer and activist who fought for women's rights and the right to control their own bodies. She was a pioneer in the field of family planning and was known for her work with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. She is remembered as a key figure in the evolution of the modern birth control movement.

In 1916, Sanger was arrested for distributing contraceptive information and devices, which led to the eventual creation of the American Birth Control League. She was also involved in the development of the first birth control clinic in the United States.

THE DEEPENING POLITICAL CRISIS IN IRELAND
By GERRY FOLEY

In the mid-1930s, the British government introduced the Irish Free State, which was later renamed the Irish Republic. This move was part of the Irish War of Independence, which lasted from 1919 to 1921.

THE ALP AND THE RIGHT TO ABORTION
Picketing the Victorian Branch's 'Conscience' By Leith Nisen

In 1933, the Labor Party in Australia introduced the Abortion Act, which decriminalized abortion in the state of Victoria. This was a significant step towards the acceptance of abortion as a legal and safe procedure.

A picture of theeds of a woman in a hospital bed. The picture is black and white, and the woman is wearing a gown.

At a Federal Conference in 1971, the Labor Party formally adopted a pro-choice stance on abortion. This was a significant step towards the acceptance of abortion as a legal and safe procedure.

The abolition of the death penalty in Australia was a significant step towards the acceptance of human rights and freedoms.

In 1995, Australia became the first country in the world to legislate for the right to die with dignity.
The fact is that the crisis of exploitative to be found in the oppression of the working class. This was the weakest point in the system, and the working class, if it united, could overwhelm the ruling class. The working class was not united, and the revolution was defeated. The struggle against imperialism is essential to the survival of the working class, as the world's working class is engaged in a revolutionary struggle against imperialism. This struggle is not a war, but a struggle for survival, for the survival of the working class. The struggle against imperialism is not a war of annihilation, but a struggle for survival.

The revolution is not a war, but a struggle for survival, for the survival of the working class. The struggle against imperialism is not a war of annihilation, but a struggle for survival. The struggle against imperialism is not a war of annihilation, but a struggle for survival.

The working class must unite. The working class is not united, and the revolution is defeated. The working class must unite. The working class is not united, and the revolution is defeated. The working class must unite. The working class is not united, and the revolution is defeated.
BRITISH LABOUR UPSURGE FREES DOCKERS

THE WORLD

REVOLUTION

THE McGOVERN ILLUSION

BY JIM PERCY

It is important we see the illusion in its full context.

McGovern's election campaign was built on the twin pillars of economic and social reform. His promise to create a "revolutionary" society through reform was central to his message.

The "revolutionary" ideology of the Democratic Party does not exist in the United States. The Democratic Party, while often critical of the policies of the Republican Party, has never been a revolutionary party. The Democratic Party has always been a party of the status quo, and its policies have always been aimed at maintaining the existing social and economic order.

The "revolutionary" ideology of the Democratic Party is a myth. It is a illusion created by the political establishment to maintain its power and control over the economy.

"It is quite contrary to the "revolutionary" ideology of the Democratic Party to create a society of equals. The Democratic Party's ideology is based on the idea of a society of equals, and its policies are aimed at maintaining that society. The Democratic Party's policies are based on the idea of a society of equals, and its policies are aimed at maintaining that society. The Democratic Party's policies are based on the idea of a society of equals, and its policies are aimed at maintaining that society.
A Contribution to the History of the Trotskyist Movement

Pierre Frank

Part 4

Chapter 4: From 1933 to 1938. Preparing for the Fourth International

A night had been spent in Voysk in 1932 defining the terms of the treaty that permitted the reoccupation of the German army's area of occupation. The next day, the Soviet Union and Germany signed the Treaty of Versailles, which stated that the Soviet Union would be allowed to occupy the German army's area of occupation."..."
INTERNATIONALISM AND THE CPA

BY JIM PERCY

"In the epoch, which is the epoch of imperialism, the masses of the people in the big capitalist countries have to take a radical stand for the liberation of the colonies and the backward countries. The masses of the people in the backward countries have to take a radical stand for the liberation of the colonial and the backward countries. The CPA, as the working-class political party of the Chinese masses, has to take a radical stand for the complete liberation of the Chinese people."

New Year greetings! We are now entering the third year of the Great Cultural Revolution. The CPA and the Chinese workers, peasants and soldiers have played a vital role in the Cultural Revolution. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been leading the Cultural Revolution. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie. The CPA and the Chinese masses have been fighting against the revisionist capitalist tool of the bourgeoisie.

In addition, we give constant support to the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses. We support the revolutionary line of the Chinese masses.
The recent decision taken by Justice Moore, President of the Arbitration Commission, to have the twenty-three oil companies involved in the arbitration, is a strong indication of the power of the trade unions. The action of the arbiters demonstrates the fact that the oil companies, which have been so successful in the past, have been forced to make decisions that will result in a decrease of profits and the loss of jobs for many workers.

The arbitrators have decided to impose a wage cut of 10% on all oil workers, and this will have a significant impact on the industry. This decision will result in a decrease of production and profits, and it will also have a negative impact on the local economy. The oil companies have been forced to make this decision because of the strong union movement, which has been able to negotiate a better deal for its members.

The decision of the arbitrators has been welcomed by the oil workers, who have been demanding a wage increase for some time. The arbitrators have been able to negotiate a better deal for the workers, which will result in a decrease of production and profits for the oil companies. This is a significant victory for the union movement, and it will have a positive impact on the local economy.

The decision of the arbitrators has been welcomed by the oil workers, who have been demanding a wage increase for some time. The arbitrators have been able to negotiate a better deal for the workers, which will result in a decrease of production and profits for the oil companies. This is a significant victory for the union movement, and it will have a positive impact on the local economy.