

poofa-bashing

The community attitudes which led to the murder of George Duncan back in May 1972 are still very much alive. 'Poofa-bashing' is still a fashionable sport in Adelaide, and it is not clear that the police are prepared to take recent outbreaks at all seriously (though we would like nothing better than to be proved wrong about that!).

The latest incidents have taken place in the vicinity of the privately-owned AC/DC Club, off Currie Street. At least one C.A.M.P. member has been brutally bashed, and his companion knifed. Cars have been damaged and the AC/DC Club itself broken into and robbed. It seems that some of our local larrikins are doing their best to put the Club out of business.

C.A.M.P. is assembling a dossier on what has been going on, and on similar incidents. We appeal to members and friends (and anyone else) who has been the victim of bashings, intimidation, etc etc, either around the AC/DC Club or anywhere else in town to come forward and make their case known. Only by assembling EVIDENCE (preferably in the form of statutory declarations) can we even begin to act and to make the community at large aware of what is going on.

So..., if you've been beaten-up, had your car damaged or been otherwise victimised in recent months, come and let us know. If you're worried about remaining anonymous, at least come and discuss it with us privately! Ask around for a C.A.M.P. committee member, or write to the vice-president, C.A.M.P., Box 1204K, GPO., Adelaide, 5001, and we'll arrange to see you, OR, just fill in the coupon at the back of this magazine and send it off to the same address.
