

CAN YOU HELP

Dear Friend,

The Movement Against Uranium Mining, (MAUM), is a large group of people who are fighting to end the mining and export of uranium. This is being done at all levels of the community by individuals, local groups and interested organisations. By marching today you have already shown support for our cause and you may now be interested in joining a local group. (For local group contacts, see overleaf).

Local groups consist of people who are active in their local area, distributing information about the dangers and problems of uranium mining and the production of nuclear energy. Local groups work in various ways within their community and their success depends largely on the size of their group and the number of people actively involved. Some groups have only 3 or 4 members, some are much larger. People involved are from all walks of life and often their only tie with MAUM before joining a group has been going to marches. They are the 'grass roots' of the campaign.

LOCAL GROUPS NEED YOUR HELP

Most groups meet on a regular basis, (weekly, fortnightly or monthly), and discuss their activities. Activities of groups vary and include things like street stalls, film showings, leafletting factories and schools, street theatre, working with local councils, addressing community groups, working with local ALP branches, and so on. If you are unsure about attending meetings, (perhaps you are shy or intimidated by meetings), be reassured by the fact that local group meetings are usually fairly informal. Local groups have lots of fun and many good friendships have evolved from such groups.

On the other hand, you might like to become more involved in MAUM but are committed to other causes or just do not have time to attend meetings. Whatever the reasons, at least contact the group closest to you to discover what you can do to help them or, fill in the membership form on the back. If you find there is no group in your area contact Diana Roberts on 241 2053, 241 3004 (MAUM office). She is the local group co-ordinator and would be more than happy to talk with you.

COMING EVENT

We are having a discussion day for interested individuals and local groups, to discuss campaigns for the rest of this year. This will be on Saturday, 5th May, from 10am to 5pm at Merewether Building, Sydney University, off City Road. The aim of the discussion is to bring people together to find out what is happening within the movement and to discuss what we can do to make our campaign more effective. For this meeting to be successful we need a wide variety of ideas and opinions. We all have something to contribute and it will be an excellent opportunity to discover what activities local groups are undertaking. Please make the effort and come.

THE MORE ACTIVE PEOPLE ARE, THE MORE EFFECTIVELY WE CAN FIGHT THE MADNESS OF A NUCLEAR WORLD.

MARCHING IN PROTEST IS NOT ENOUGH.
