

HEALTH BEFORE GAMES!

The Victorian government is happy to gamble millions of taxpayers' dollars on the long shot of getting the 1996 Olympics, but it is refusing to wager one additional cent on preventing the certain spread of AIDS.

ACT UP demands public health before public spectacle.

Victoria spends no more on AIDS than the minimum required under the funding arrangement with the Commonwealth, while NSW spends $13.5 million annually of its own money. As a result per capita AIDS spending in NSW is four times higher than in Victoria.

WHO ARE ACT UP?

ACT UP is an international AIDS activist organization founded in New York in 1987. Melbourne is the 37th city around the world to form an ACT UP chapter.

People with HIV/AIDS and AIDS organizations in Australia have been repeatedly let down by state and federal governments and by drug companies.

Now people with HIV/AIDS and their supporters will be acting directly to force governments and companies to respond to the unmet needs of HIV prevention and AIDS treatments.

ACT UP's message is that not dealing with AIDS is fatal; with AIDS

Silence = Death, Action = Life.

ACT UP is an open, democratic organization that meets every week. Contact 525 428 for details of meetings.
